

Pupils from Woodlands Primary School in Manenberg did their bit to help the seniors in the community by donating blankets to home for the aged in the area. The pupils, who are part of the Soul Buddyz Club at Woodlands Primary, worked to raise money to buy the blankets for all the residents of Oakhaven Place, which they handed out on Thursday July 23. Anthony Meyer, principal of Woodlands Primary School encouraged the senior citizens to speak to the younger generation about their experiences to pass down knowledge.

"You have a pot full of knowledge. We want to create a partnership between you and the young people."
Yonelisa Magqaza, 12, a Grade 6 pupil who recited a poem for the seniors, said they wanted to give back to the community and that she has learnt a lot from being part of Soul Buddyz, including acting, singing, poetry and other skills.

■ Dorothea Sakanarie, 74, Robert Burger, 67 and Muriel Johnson, 82, enjoy koeksisters given to them by the children. They also received blankets.

■ Annie Louw, 81, welcomed the blanket handed over to her by Galiema Hendricks, 11, a Grade 4 pupil.

■ Sebastian Prezens, 73, and Thandeka Mngqibisa, 92, receive blankets from Denise Adams, 18, a tutor at Woodlands Primary School and Shannaz Wilson, 9, a Grade 4 pupil at the school.

■ Yonelisa Magqaza, 12, a Grade 6 pupils hands over donuts to Duncan smith, 86, and John Mentoor, 71.

■ Emihle Tninta, 10, a Grade 4 pupil hands over a blanket to Peter Schoeman, 79.
